Mrs. Ream will be remembered as being the pioneer lady at the Dakota County Old Settlers' picnic held August 31 last. The early day experiences, as she relates them, are sure interesting.

Sioux City Journal, 9th: Sister Mary Camilla, of St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, of Dubuque, a former Sioux City girl, died yesterday, according to a report received in Sioux City last night. The funeral will be held and burial will take place in Dubuque today. Sister Camilla was widely known in Sioux City. Prior to taking the veil she was known as Miss Duggan.... The marriage of Louis E. Dierking, of Morningside, to Miss Geneva June, of Merrill, has been announced. The wedding ceremony was performed Wednesday, June 6, at the home of the bride's parents, in Merrill. Rev. M. Metcalf, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Dierking will make their home at 3324 Orleans avenue.

Cooley, returned home with them. They stopped at Homer for supper, and two little nieces, Alice and May Mason, also returned with them.

Sioux City Journal, 7th: Born—In South Sioux City, Wednesday, June 6, 1917, to Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Blassl, a daughter.... Miss Esther Leamer, instructor in domestic science in the high school at Randolph, Neb., has returned to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Leamer.... At the second meeting of the new council of South Sioux City last night the bonds of City Attorney Ward R. Evans, Chief of Police A. L. Mathew and Water Commissioner James Hogan were approved.... A deed of the transfer of the combination bridge from Walter L. Selby, of Omaha, Neb., to the Missouri River Bridge company, a Delaware combination was filed at the court house. The specific amount involved in the transaction was not stated.

Sioux City Journal, 8th: A labor agency, for the purpose of procuring farm hands will be established and maintained by the citizens of South Sioux City, Neb., according to a decision reached by the city council. C. D. Smiley will take charge of the agency, which will be started immediately. The expense of operation will be borne by the council.... A new right of way franchise in South Sioux City is being sought by the Missouri River Bridge company, a Delaware concern which recently purchased the Combination bridge and its realty rights, and a counter proposal in the shape of a request for the removal of the old trestle in South Sioux City will be made by Ward Evans, City attorney. An attorney of the bridge company was present at a meeting of the South Sioux City council and presented his petition for a new franchise, but the matter was deferred and a special meeting to consider the matter will be called by Mayor J. S. Bacon. Members of the council are anxious to have the old abandoned trestle work torn down. They say it is unsightly and is a detriment to the community. The trestle has not been used for many years. It has been afire often, but never burned completely. Incendiarism usually was given as the origin of the fires.... Plans for a district boy scout camp at either Crystal lake or McCook lake the week of July 5 to 12 are being formulated by Harry K. Ghormley, head of the movement in Sioux City. Letters announcing the proposed camp have been issued to the scoutmasters within a radius of fifty miles. It is impossible to give any estimate of the number of scouts that will attend the camp owing to the unsettled conditions of the country. It is expected, however, that the number will range from 100 to 150 or more. Registration for the camp is not necessary until July 1. The camp, which last year was held at Crystal lake, attracted 105 boys, most of whom were from Sioux City. It is estimated that at least fifty of the Sioux City scouts will be in the camp this year. The outing will be registered as an official scout camp. The outline for the daily program at camp will be similar to that of last year, with the exception that more scout work will be included than recreation. A cook and assistant will be hired to care for the meals, but the other work of the camp will fall upon the boys themselves. Last year's camp was held near the west end of Crystal lake, where there is a quantity of timber. Scouts who attend the camp will be required to furnish their own bedding, cups, knives, forks and spoons. A charge of $6.50 will be made for a seven-day camp.

Sioux City Journal, 10: Miss Lucille Hough and Mr. Bennis Schmucler eloped to South Sioux City and were married Thursday, unknown to their relatives and friends here. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hough, who thought the wedding would not take place for a year. The couple are living at the Hough home for the present.... Lakeport township is being washed into the Missouri river at the rate of nearly 400 feet a day and the safety of the entire township is jeopardized. When the spring rises came and the current of the river was greatly increased, cutting on the east bank of the river in Lakeport township began to increase. Farmers are moving from the threatened area. A school house and a church, which last winter were more than a mile and a half from the river, were moved to save them from being carried away by the stream. Sites where the buildings stood now are a part of the river channel, which is from two and a half to three miles in width. Farmers say the cause of the cutting into their land this spring is the changing of the current by riprap work done just below the high bridge by the Northwestern Railroad company. A short distance from the riprap in a protected place on the Iowa side is an island owned by Ed Betz, of Sioux City. The Betz island is being built up rapidly and it is estimated by the county engineer's office that hundreds of acres will be added this summer. The Northwestern railroad riprap sends the river current over to the Nebraska side where the land is being cut away, but not so rapidly as on the Iowa side in Lakeport township. Buildings near Dakota City have been moved away from the river to escape destruction through encroachment. After striking the Nebraska side of the river near Dakota City, the current is sent back to the Iowa side, where it is cutting into Lakeport township. The cutting on the Iowa side begins a short distance south of the north boundary of Lakeport township. Less than a half mile from the initial point of cutting is the north end of Sand Hill lake, an old river bed. The course of the cutting leads directly toward the old bed. Should the river's cutting not be stopped before reaching the bed of Sand Hill lake, almost all of Lakeport township will have been carried away by the stream. Draftsmen in the county engineer's office, who now are engaged in making a new map of the county, are experiencing difficulty in outlining the course of the river, so rapidly is the cutting process. Great pieces of ground are falling into the stream daily, the engineers say, and the contact of the earth with the water results in reports resembling the setting off of explosives.
